Final Report

Angels Express Service

Prepared for the Mobile Source Air Pollution Review Committee (MSRC) under the AB 2766 Discretionary Fund Work Program

November 20, 2018

Acknowledgements

The Orange County Transportation Authority (OCTA) expresses its gratitude to the Mobile Source Air Pollution Reduction Review Committee (MSRC) and staff for their funding and assistance for OCTA's Angels Express Service. OCTA also acknowledges the valuable support and partnership provided by the Southern California Regional Rail Authority (Metrolink), the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (LA Metro), the Riverside County Transportation Commission (RCTC), the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim (Angels), as well as the support of the City of Anaheim, in ensuring the success of the service.

This report is submitted in fulfillment of AB 2766 and contract MS18004, Angels Express Service by OCTA under the sponsorship of the MSRC. The 2017 season operated from March 30 to September 29, and the 2018 season consisted of service to games from April 2 to September 28.

The statement and conclusions in this report are those of the contractor and not necessarily those of the MSRC or the South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD). The mention of commercial products, their sources or their uses in connection with material reported is not to be construed as either an actual or implied endorsement of such products.

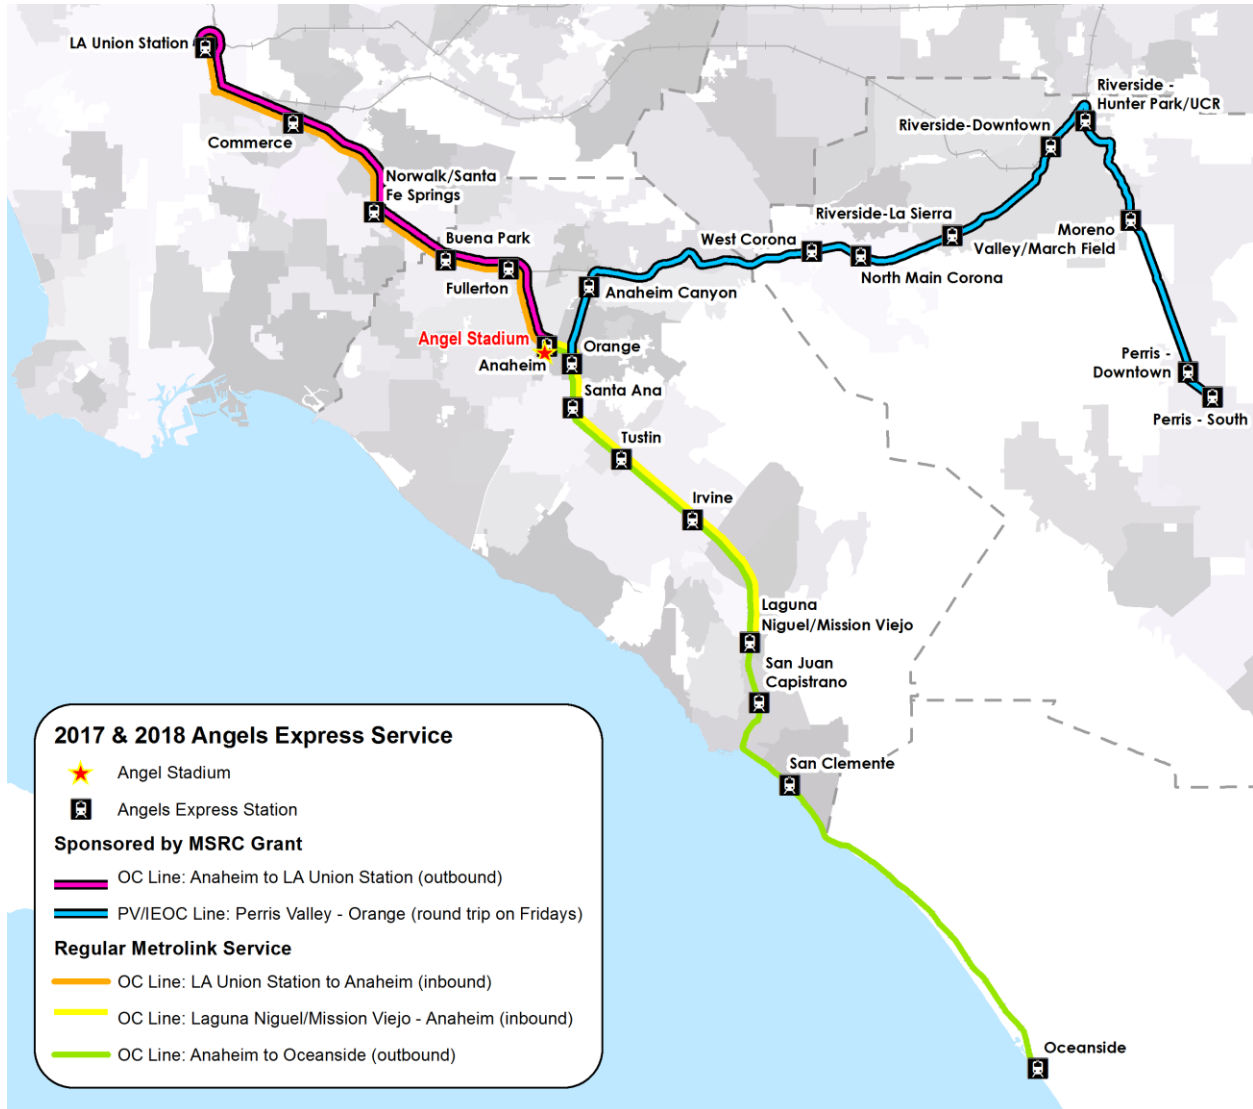

Project Description and Work Performed

The Metrolink Angels Express is a convenient alternative transportation option, comprised of regular and special rail service, for fans traveling to and from Angels home baseball games at Angel Stadium. By removing cars from surrounding roads, the service helps reduce automobile vehicle miles traveled and emissions within the South Coast Air Basin. The two-year MSRC grant award was designed to support special Angels Express service to weeknight home games starting at 7:07pm during the 2017 and 2018 Angels baseball seasons.

The 2017 service operated from March 30 to September 29, and included two pre-season games. A total of 53 games were served in 2017, including 15 Friday games. In 2018, 49 games were served, including 14 Friday games. On each day of service, Metrolink operated a special return trip from Anaheim to Los Angeles, via the Orange County (OC) Line. Additionally, for those Fridays served, Metrolink operated a special round trip between Perris Valley and Orange, with a transfer to Anaheim, via a train route combining the 91/Perris Valley (91/PV) and the Inland Empire-Orange County (IEOC) lines. Regular service was available for passengers traveling from Los Angeles to Anaheim, and between Oceanside and Anaheim, via the OC Line.

Angels Express Service Routes and Stations

The map below illustrates the 2017 and 2018 Angels Express service.

On game nights, passengers accessed the Anaheim Station via the southbound train from LA Union Station, Norwalk/Santa Fe Springs, Buena Park, or Fullerton, or via the northbound train from Laguna Niguel/Mission Viejo, Irvine, Tustin, Santa Ana, or Orange.

On Friday game nights, passengers had the option to take the train from Perris-South, Perris Downtown, Moreno Valley-March Field, Hunter Park-UCR, Riverside Downtown, Riverside-La Sierra, North Main Corona, West Corona, or Anaheim Canyon, and transfer at Orange to the Anaheim Station.

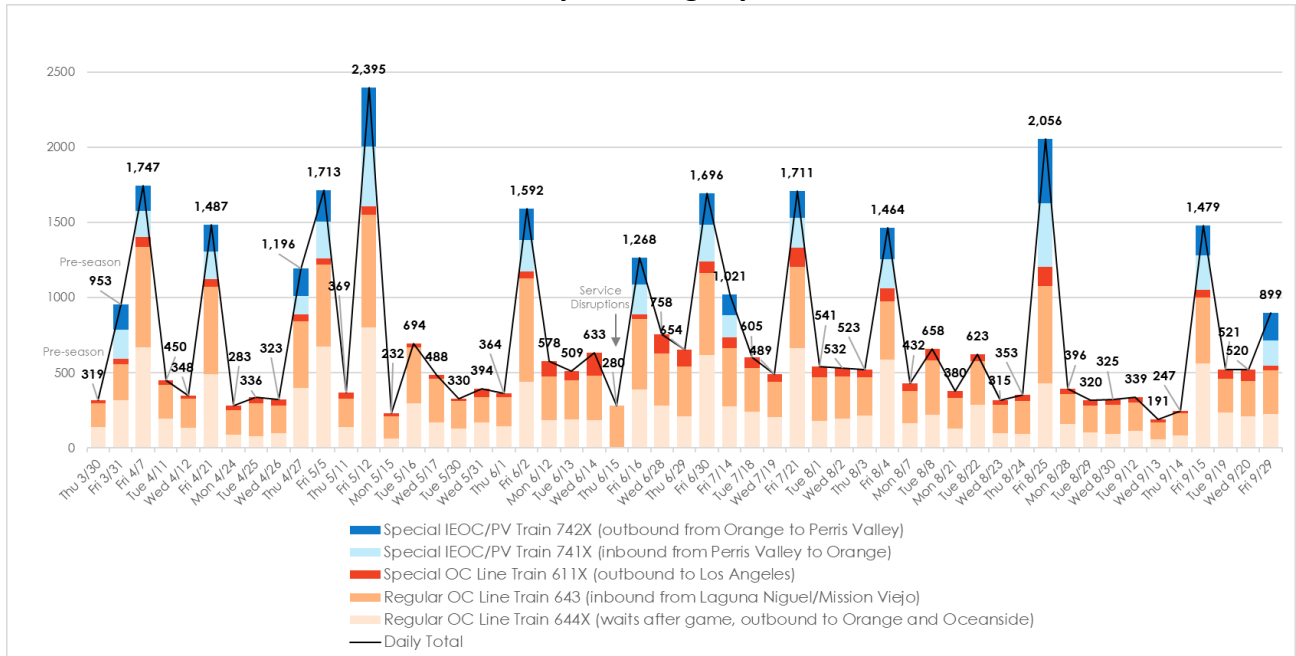

Return trains departed the Anaheim Station 30 minutes after the last inning, and could be held as late as 11:00 p.m., in the event that the game ran late. Return trips allowed passengers to disembark at any station along the departing route. The southbound OC Line train continued past Laguna Niguel/Mission Viejo, and made stops in San Juan Capistrano, San Clemente, and Oceanside. The table below lists the stations served by the 2017-2018 Angels Express.

Service Performance

The Angels Express service proved successful with 39,331 total boardings for 53 games (83 one-way trips) served in 2017, and 37,546 total boardings for 49 games (77 one-way trips) served in 2018. The charts below show total daily boardings on Angels Express trains for each game served during each season.

2017 Daily Boardings by Train

2018 Daily Boardings by Train

In 2017, ridership for the first 50 regular games (37,160 boardings) was 13.1 percent below ridership for the 50 games served in 2016 (42,738 boardings). Ridership for 49 games served during the 2018 season totaled 37,546 boardings, and compared to the first 49 regular games of the 2017 season (36,640 boardings), ridership in 2018 increased by 2.5 percent.

In 2017, 19,971 special round trip Metrolink Angels Express tickets were sold, just 0.2 percent less than those sold in 2016. In 2018, ticket sales topped 20,554 tickets, representing a 2.9 percent increase from 2017. In 2017 and 2018, the top three origin stations, in descending order of tickets sold, were Laguna Niguel/Mission Viejo, LA Union Station, and Irvine stations. The Laguna Niguel/Mission Viejo Station was the origin point for 26 percent of tickets sold in 2017 and 24 percent of tickets sold in 2018. Compared to each prior year, total ticket revenue increased by 0.7 percent in 2017, and by 5.1 percent in 2018.

Train	Route Description	Average Daily Boardings
		2017	2018
643	Laguna Niguel/Mission Viejo to Anaheim (includes 91/PV/IEOC transfers at Orange)	310	308
644X	Anaheim to Oceanside (includes 91/PV/IEOC transfers at Orange)	255	258
741X	Perris Valley to Orange	221	218
742X	Orange to Perris Valley	216	212
611X	Anaheim to LA Union Station	54	77

Average Daily Boardings by Day (2011-2018)

The Angels Express service experienced one service disruption in 2017 and two in 2018. In each case, the train returning to LA Union Station after the game was cancelled or replaced by a Tier 2 locomotive. In all three occasions, alternative transportation was sought for passengers. Excluding the instances noted above, Angels Express trains were on time during both seasons, with all trains arriving at the stadium in time for games at 7:07 p.m. As indicated in the service description, departure trains after the game were held in the instance of extra innings, and therefore were on time.

Grant Award

The MSRC awarded OCTA $503,272 to operate Metrolink Angels Express service for two years, 2017 and 2018. As part of the grant program, an in-kind local match contribution of $503,272 is required, which OCTA provided in the form of staff time, marketing costs, fare and admission discounts, and fare revenues.

Tier 2 and Tier 4 Locomotives

The grant required use of either Tier 2 or Tier 4 locomotives during the 2017 season, and Tier 4 locomotives during the 2018 season. The newest Tier 4 locomotives were unavailable for 2017 service, though the 2017 Angels Express season remained in compliance using Tier 2 locomotives to operate 82 of 83 special trains that season. In 2018, Metrolink used Tier 4 locomotives for 75 of the 77 special trains in service.

Emissions Benefits

<MSRC assistance is requested to calculate the air quality benefits of the service based on the service and ridership information provided>

Outreach

To maximize ridership, OCTA partnered with Metrolink, the Angels, LA Metro and RCTC to promote the service.

Promotional efforts included a discounted $7.00 regular roundtrip fare, $6.00 for senior/disabled riders, and $4.00 for youth (ages 6 to 18), with children under 5 free. The 'Kids Ride Free' promotion took place in July and August, allowing children up to age 18 free rides on Angels Express trains. In 2017, service to 18 games qualified for the 'Kids Ride Free' promotion, and 15 games were served during the promotional period in 2018.

As detailed in the list below, the Angels Express campaign included promotion via newspapers, radio, web, online media banners, a bus and train wrap, Metrolink stations, and Angel Stadium. Special events, photo contests, and sweepstakes supported by OCTA, Metrolink and the Angels, kept participants engaged throughout both seasons.

Summary and Conclusions

The partnership created by the MSRC, the Angels, Metrolink, LA Metro, RCTC and OCTA, has led to the development of a successful event transit service. Thousands of Angels fans rode Metrolink Angels Express trains during the 2017 and 2018 baseball seasons, which indicates that the service effectively furthers the goals of the MSRC Major Event Center Transportation Program.

The service has proven successful in providing new and experienced riders with an efficient and affordable alternative to driving to Angels baseball games. As Metrolink Angels Express service awareness and participation continues to grow, communities will reap the benefits of reduced traffic congestion, which in turn yields air quality benefits by avoiding the harmful emissions associated with stop and go driving and queuing.

Building on the success of the 2017 and 2018 baseball seasons, continuity of the program with a focus on operating Tier 4 locomotives will provide the greatest benefit to all participating parties.

Lifelong Baseball Fan Loves the Angels Express

Wednesday, May 17, 2017

Tweet Share

During baseball season, OCTA asks riders on the Angels Express to share pictures of their adventures traveling to and from Angel Stadium on the convenient Metrolink train. We received a great shot of Diane Jackson from her daughter, Penni Ebina, taken in April when mother and daughter were on their way from Perris to the Angels season opener.

Diane is 73 and a lifelong baseball fan. According to Penni, the Angels have been her favorite team since 1969. Diane moved to California in mid-1966, so it took her awhile to change her allegiance from the Minnesota Twins. This summer, Diane will complete her bucket list of attending a baseball game at every major league team's stadium when she visits Toronto, Cleveland, Cincinnati, and Phoenix.

Diane hates driving on freeways but loves taking the Angels Express because it's easy and she doesn't have to sit in traffic. She'll be on the train on June 2 to see the Angels take on her former favorite team, the Minnesota Twins.

The Angels Express takes fans to and from all baseball weeknight home games that start at 7:07 p.m. On Friday nights, service is offered from Perris through Riverside to Anaheim. The price is only $7 roundtrip for adults, and the train drops you off only a few steps from Angel Stadium at the Anaheim-ARTIC station. For the trip home, trains depart 30 minutes after the end of the game, but no later than 11:30 p.m.

Angel Express fans who share photos at #rallyonthetrain can win exclusive Angels Express gear such as hats, t-shirts and totes. Visit here to learn more about the train and special offers.
